Caring for Polished Granite Countertops

Granite comes in many colors to match your kitchen.

- granite countertops not only add color and good looks to kitchens, but they are also easy to maintain and clean. One slab can have multiple colors, depending on where the stone was cut from. The granite is also heavy, making installation and removal difficult. Fortunately, caring for polished granite countertops isn't complicated.

Things You'll Need

- Lint-free cloth
- Sponge
- Gentle soap or spray cleaner

Instructions

Dust the countertops, using a lint-free cloth. Remove dust, food residue and water.

Dampen a sponge and thoroughly wipe off the countertops. Wipe up spills immediately to prevent stains.

Apply a gentle soap or gentle spray cleaner (like white vinegar and water) to the countertop.

Scrub the cleaner in gently with a fine scouring pad. Use a fine pad to prevent etching or scratching.

Wipe the counter dry, using a dry, clean towel. Liquids should never be left standing on the counters.
